

AEFM ENERGENIUS

STRATEGIC ENERGY CONTROL

MORE THAN JUST LED'S

A bespoke energy management and carbon reduction solution, developed by AEFM Limited that understands that reducing energy and carbon intensity should not interrupt your core business activity.

aefm energenius

"a holistic approach to energy management & carbon reduction"

When energy has to be controlled, trust aefm energenius.

aefm energenius is a bespoke energy reduction review and strategy that gets under the skin of how energy is used to support the delivery of your business outputs, understanding the way that your business works before developing and implementing change that might otherwise become a business limiter.

Our 7 stage, aefm energenius process ensures that we look beyond the immediate low hanging opportunities. These are a given and awareness that these exist is important however they are rarely where the true opportunities to reduce consumption exist.

WHEN ENERGY HAS TO BE CONTROLLED

Baseload Analysis

Develop an understanding of the energy baseload that is constant regardless of output

Asset Review

Determine the energy load of the plant, equipment and systems that are present in the location and the controls that are in place.

Implement Change

Agree changes identified within the change review and implement change improvement projects.

Energy Consumption

Identify the current energy profile for the location, understanding peak loads

Energy Context

What factors exist within the business operation that influence and impact the use of energy in all of its forms.

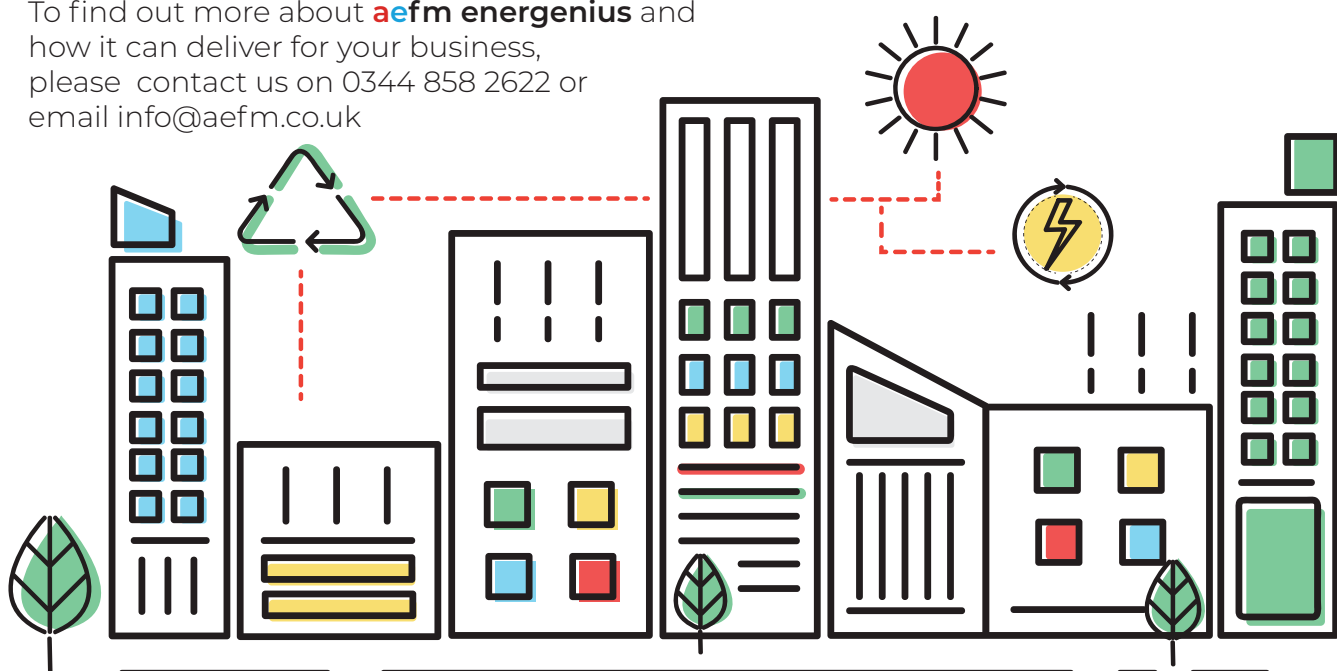

Change Review

Present findings and change requirements necessary to control and ultimately reduce the use and waste of energy.

Review Impacts

Review the impact of the changes to demonstrate savings and establish a new baseline for measurement of future change.
